“Dear children, also today I’m among you, so that you may learn to accept God’s Love.

My children, I’m saying to each of you: open your hearts, open yourselves to the grace of the gift of His Love! You, who seek peace in your families, be an example to your children and don’t speak of God and of peace if you don’t first live His Love.

I’m saying to you, My children: decide to say your ‘Yes’ so that you’ll donate to those around you, not words, but your example of Love. I know, My children, that for you it seems impossible that all this can happen in your hearts. I’m telling you that nothing is impossible for God! God knows everything that you live, but don’t lose His grace, persevere in prayer because My Son accepts your prayers and nothing is impossible for Him .

Live, My children, in truth, in purity, and in the perseverance of prayer to live a life of holiness.

You, who seek His Love, leave the old things, leave everything that makes you suffer, and learn to donate, entrusting yourselves into My Son Jesus’s hands. That’s why I'm with you and beside you, to make you meet the King of Peace!

Don't be deceived by everything that surrounds you, that puts fear and dread in your hearts: all this doesn't come from God. God's Love, He's Mercy and He wants your peace and He doesn't want you to be afraid, that's why I come among you to bring Peace and Love.

My children, pray much for the Church and for your Pastors, because, in these times, there's a need for union, covenant, and peace.

And you, who are part of the Church, be witnesses and evangelisers in your Parishes, so that your Churches may not be empty, but may be full of souls of good will. Where there's love, there's God.

Love Pastors and pray for the Holy Father, so that, by your prayers, there may be love and unity and you can find the way forward without the deception of the evil one.

Thanks, My children, for your prayers, because, through your Cenacles, many souls are finding grace and peace.

Don't forget those who suffer in sickness! Support them by prayer and your presence; I'm close to each one of them.

And to you, My children, I'm exhorting you to thank for all that nature donated to you and, if you live all this, you're joyful even on earth.

Thank you for having responded to My call.
