

“Dear children, also today, with motherly love, I’m coming among you to give to mankind all the love that I have for each of you.

My dear children, also today, through the grace of My Son Jesus, I’m here among you to tell you that I love you and I’m coming to donate you His Word so that it may be received by all.

I’m saying to you, who have long listened to My Messages, I wish that they be put into practice in order to be witnesses of His Love.

Dear children, all of you, who have learned to know Me and are learning the Word of My Son Jesus, I’m saying to you, to you, who have been walking with Me for some time, invest your time for God.

At one time you didn’t know His Love and today, that you’re knowing it, you’re learning to taste this love and I feel that many times you think back to when you didn't know it. Today you've got a strong desire to make this love known to others, but I'm saying to you: don't waste words, but pray for them so that they may receive the gift of faith.

Dear children, if the grain of wheat doesn't die, it can't bear fruit, and you, who are the fruit of love, I'm saying to you: don't squander the gifts that were given to you, but be bearers of His Word and His teaching!

Don't be robbed of hope, but let the Commandments be lived because they're the path bringing to holiness.

And you, who know the Source of Grace, you who have received the Bread come down from Heaven, I'm exhorting you not to be without It, because this Bread is your nourishment.

Pray, pray, pray, My children, because, when you pray, I'm beside you and, by your prayer, you can be freed from your anxieties and worries.

I'm here to extend My hand to you so that you may learn to walk with Me towards My Son Jesus. And, if you do this, you'll learn to taste the peace of heart and won't feel all the heaviness that surrounds you.

My children, when you're together in prayer, you feel the joy and love of the brothers and I'm inviting you to remain in the love of one another, so that you may grow and be helped.

Thank you, My children, for your prayers because, through them, many will receive graces.

Learn, My children, to be bearers of joy and to transmit to others that love which you've received. Now – more than ever – you need to transmit this love to one another and there you'll be recognized as children of peace.

I'm here as your mother, not to frighten you, but to encourage you and to make you feel all the love that God has for you.

Pray, pray, pray so that the plans, that God has for each of you, may come true!

Thank you, My children, for your presence and for the constancy of your prayer. Pray for My Shepherd sons and for the peace of the world. I'm blessing you all."
